Natural Light offers a totally unique handcrafted service. Using film cameras and traditional darkroom methods, our photographs are without gimmicks. Beautifully printed to the highest standards using carefully chosen materials, the results are natural, real looking photographs.

Your wedding day will be photographed in a black and white documentary style, allowing your day to flow naturally, preserving all the emotions and excitement of the occasion. All packages include photography which starts with the bridal preparations, with coverage ending at the reception after the first dance.

An optional colour formal package can be added, allowing your wedding party to be photographed in artistically arranged group poses in the grounds of the church or reception.

We prefer not to sign you up to large or complicated packages, perhaps buying images you do not want. All packages include a starter set of 30 black and white handprinted photographs with the option of adding photographs on a 'pay per print' basis. Details are listed under 'Optional extras.'
